LANE, MCGILLIVRAY AND LANGER WIN FEATURE EVENTS IN SWIMMING MEET

Crowd Estimated at 5000 Sees Harbor Competition—Diving Exhibitions Are Feature of Afternoon—Service Contests Call Forth Keen Rivalry

Clarence Lane of Honolulu and Perry McGillivray of Chicago—two same young athletes from widely-separated parts of the United States—shared honors in the major sprint events yesterday afternoon on the first day of the 1917 Carnival Tournament.

The events were staged before a crowd estimated at 5000 people. Honolulu shared honors with Illinois in the 50 and 100-yard events. Clarence Lane lived up to his promises when he won the shorter distance from Kelli and McGillivray in fast time.

In the century swim, McGillivray took the lead at the 20-yard mark and at the 50-yard mark was leading, followed by Harold Kruger. Lane was third and Kelli fourth. Kelli and Lane began to gain at the 75-yard mark, and McGillivray, using the American crawl, led the way to the float, finishing ahead of the Honolulu boys by about one yard. Lane and Kelli touched the float almost at the same time, the Palama swimmer just beating the Heanani man out by the narrowest margin.

Ludy Langer of the Los Angeles Athletic Club once more carried off the honors in an 880-yard race when he defeated Harold Kruger of the Heanani and Norman Ross, Olympic Club, San Francisco, in the half-mile event, which was one of the feature events of the day. The great showing made by Kruger, who surprised even his admirers, was one of the features of the day.

Ross led the way for the first 200 yards and was leading Langer by one length at the 300-yard mark, but then the Los Angeles champion started his "motor" in action and soon passed the Portland natator. At the 500-yard mark Kruger, who was seven lengths behind, began to go after Ross and suddenly cut down the distance, and at the 700-yard mark passed the big swimmer. Then "Stubby" Kruger started after Langer, and made a great battle for first place but, the Los Angeles champion had a safe lead, and although "Stubby" was gaining, he could not catch the Californian. Ross was swimming off the course much of the time after the 300-yard mark was reached. The time was 11:30, which is nearly ten seconds slower than his former record.

Lane Wins 50-Yard Race

Clarence Lane, the sensational young swimmer of Palama Settlement, captured the first honors in the 50-yard swim yesterday when he finished ahead of John Kelli of the Heanani Club by inches. Lane was off with the crack of the gun and hit the water ahead of both Kelli and Perry McGillivray of the Illinois Athletic Club, one of the visiting champions. Using the strong stroke which has given him many honors, he led Kelli at the 35-yard mark by two yards. McGillivray was third.

Kelli started a spurt which carried him even with Lane at the 45-yard mark and the two swimmers then made a light for the finish, Lane edging the Heanani swimmer out by the smallest margin possible. Early in the race it was seen that the race would be between the two Honolulu boys, and McGillivray was out of it at the 40-yard mark.

The race was one of the closest that has ever been seen in Honolulu and Lane was given a hand as he came back to the float. The time was 24 seconds, which is one second over the record held by Duke Kahanamoku. Russian Boys Carry Off Honors.

As predicted, little Mitrie Konowaloff, a young Russian, carried off the honors in the 75-yard swim. The little Russian was well back until the third line, behind S. Matsuguma and M. Subotine, but at the 55-yard mark he started and crossed the line one yard ahead of Matsuguma, who was even with Subotine. Subotine made a strong spurt, but the judges awarded the second place to the Japanese boy, Matsuguma. This race was exciting throughout and the time, which was 32.5 seconds, was only one-fifth of a second under the time made by Mitrie and Ah Kin Yee last year.

Miss Allen Gives Exhibition Following the boys' race, Miss Allen Allen of Los Angeles, champion female diver of America, gave an exhibition of various antics. The Diving Venus, as she is called in aquatic circles, gave several difficult dives—full-gainer, half-gainer, handstand and other styles, which gained for her a reputation as the foremost exhibition artist in America. The Los Angeles star of the Keystone Company was heartily applauded as she completed the exhibition.

The judges at this time announced a change in positions in the 75-yard race, giving Subotine second place over Matsuguma on a technicality. Between races the fire engine was called upon to shift the oil from the course, as it gradually floated in. This necessitated a slight delay in calling the swimmers to the stand.

Service Race a Feature As predicted in the Star-Bulletin, Pingry captured the 50-yard service race, winning from Murphy and O'Brien by a small margin. Pingry finished the race in 28.5 seconds, which was slower than his time made last year at the Carnival. Capt. Popin is confident that the relay swimmers of De Russy, with Pingry in shape, will win from the U. S. S. Alert crew.

Hawaiian Takes Novice Race

John Pua captured the honors in the 100-yard novice race, beating out John Moikokahi by a narrow margin in a fast race. Fred Vellesen came strong at the finish, and with a sturdy stroke, closed the distance between the other two swimmers. The time was 1:02.35, which equals the record made by Hay Wodhouse and Clarence Hurley.

"Tough Bill" Gets in Line Light "Tough Bill" or George Keawemahi (whichever you wish to use), retained his title as champion breast-stroke swimmer of Honolulu yesterday when he finished ahead of Pua Kealoha by two lengths in the 200-yard race. "Tough Bill" led all the way to the century line, and swimming strong, gained one length in the last 50 yards. Richard Carter was third. The time was 2:12.45.

U. S. S. Alert Man Sets Record Roy ("Spud") Murphy of the Alert American cities, upset the dope yesterday when he set a new record for 100 yards in the service event. Murphy led from the start and finished ahead of Pingry of De Russy by about two lengths. Walker of De Russy was a close third. The former record was held by Pingry at 1:05. Murphy negotiated the distance in 1:03.45.

VISITOR SHOWS HIS SPEED IN 100 YARDS

forth applause from the crowded stands. Springboard Dive In the diving event Robert Fuller retained his honors as champion by winning first place from Jack Hjorth, the youngster who promises to be a star in the near future. Hjorth was heartily cheered, but the all-around work of Fuller was a feature. Cottrill made a number of beautiful dives and was given third place. The ladies 50-yard event was postponed until Saturday. The relay race for enlisted men was won by the Fort De Russy team. U. S. S. Alert team second.

There are 3294 playgrounds in 1063 in 20 boxing contests during 1916.

Young Mermaids Who Swim Tomorrow

That Hawaii will have some great feminine swimmers in the future is the belief of Miss Ruth Stacker, swimming instructor at Palama. She has trained a number of mermaids for the meet tomorrow and 10 of them will compete in the special race for girls under 15 years of age. The upper picture shows the group of young girls coached by Miss Stacker. They are, left to right—Rebecca Haakeo, Agnes Auld, Rose Roberto, Thelma Kenn, Edith Kenn, Elele Auld, Cecilia Winchester, Lydia Kane, Bella Silva and Mertie Ludington. The lower group shows three of the swimmers who will meet Miss Dorothy Burns in the ladies' race tomorrow afternoon. They are, from left to right—Rose Soares, Josephine Hopkins and Cecilia Canario. Miss Canario is entered from Hilo.

Stecher Puts Santell Down

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 22.—Joe Stecher of Nebraska won from Ad Santell of San Francisco in the wrestling bout at the Dreamland rink this afternoon in two straight falls. The first fall was gained when Stecher threw Santell to the mat with a body scissors and double wrist-lock. The time for the first fall was 38 minutes and 17 seconds. The second fall was made in 17 minutes and 54 seconds by a double wrist-lock.

MILLS AND KAM FAVORITES FOR CROSS COUNTRY

Tomorrow afternoon the cross-country athletes of Mills, Kamehameha and McKinley will begin the long grind over the cross-country course, which has been selected. Last year Mills captured the run, with a number of the star distance men finishing well up. This year Mills should make a good showing and a hot race between the Kam and the Mills team is expected.

McKinley has not been in training for this run long and is hardly expected to show much, although Bush and some of the other entries have made good time. The runners will go over the course today, and the run which will be held over the hills of the College of Hawaii, is scheduled to begin at 3:30. All entries have been requested to appear at Cooke Field this afternoon to go over the course.

As a little pre-race dope it would be well to watch Chun Lee Puck, the little Mills runner. He has been making good time in the past. Kam will have a number of good runners out this year and is counting on giving Mills a great battle over the entire distance.

Tutu college has a seven fraternity bowling league among its students, who find the game of knocking down the tenpins good recreation. Springfield Y. M. C. A. and Chicago Y. M. C. A. basketball and football teams may meet annually in the cage and on the gridiron. Johnny Dundee, the clever New York lightweight boxer, earned $30,000 in 20 boxing contests during 1916.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Albert E. Smith, president of a large motion picture producing company, told members of a legislative investigating committee here that a film star he tried to engage demanded a salary of a million dollars. "She didn't get it, did she?" asked a member of the committee. "Not from me," replied Smith. The witness declared that "unless a kind providence reduces the salaries of some stars, the producers will have to go out of business." Only a few stars are worth what they are getting, he added.

Worcester is hopeful of securing this year's annual New England intercollegiate track and field championship games.

MAY SEND LANE TO COAST MEETS

Lloyd Conkling, president of the Palama Settlement Swimming Club, said after the meet yesterday. "We are figuring on sending a swimming team to San Francisco and I think the work of our boys today shows we are justified. If Clarence Lane goes, he will be sent by the club and we will not ask for outside subscriptions. We feel we are strong enough to travel alone."

PORTLAND TEAM MAKES GOOD SHOWING IN FIRST CLASH WITH WRECKING CREW

Rogan Pitches Masterful Ball, Holding Beaver Team to Two Hits—Walter McCredie Sends Young Southpaw to Firing Line in Opening Game—Wreckers Win Out When Beaver-ville Infield Wobbles—Wreckers' Hurter Sends 13 Back

By ROBERT A. CRONIN,

(Sporting Editor, Portland Journal.)

You can't hit 'em when you can't see 'em; therefore the Portland Beavers lost their first game of the Honolulu training camp season yesterday when a couple of "sneaky" Goliath home. He was successful, but it developed later that his sacrifice was to be converted into a double play. Crafton being caught at the plate by Stumpf on the tag end of a play started by Schatzlein. This retired the side and the Wreckers did not get another run until the fifth, when Moore hit across second with one down. Pagan laid a bunt and was out, O'Brien to Stumpf. Error by Pagan.

It might be remarked, in passing, that the score was 3 to 0, none of the runs of the infantrymen being earned. At that, it was a great ball game and the soldiers were more deserving of a victory than the coast leaguers because they could hit the ball. Manager McCredie appeared to be well satisfied with the result of the game, as he expected a defeat of much larger proportions. Keen followers of baseball know that it is next to impossible to expect a ball club to carry its findings on to a big field and with against such a pitching as was shown by the bruiser who hurled for the soldier club. Except for Lefty Schatzlein, none of the Beavers has fondled the old apple since last October and none was able to line up the ball until the final stages of the battle, when Willie (pronounced just like willy) broke Rogan's record of bitless innings. This was followed in the ninth by Williams' two-bagger to left that found lodgment in the human fringes in the left field bleacher section.

Rogan's pitching was the feature of the game and this colored lad showed the Beavers that from a throwing standpoint he is the equal of some of the crack pitchers they have faced in the past on the Chicago Colored Giant team in California training camps. Rogan is a peculiar bird in the box. Sometimes he winds up and sometimes he doesn't. He just lets fire with the ball. He showed a corking curve and sizzling fast ball. If a wise manager like old Rube Foster had charge of him and taught him a change of pace and a cros fire, he surely would carry as big a niche in baseball as colored predecessors like Foster himself, Lindsay, Gatewood and Williams.

Rogan seems to be an idol in Honolulu and the Beavers will doubtless hear more of him during the next three weeks. They will show him more batting strength after the present week's series is over. Portlander Worked Young Schatzlein, the only left-hander enrolled by McCredie, made an impressive showing during his seven innings of toil. He has a good hook and a fairly fast ball, with good control for a southpaw. He showed better pitching than any other Beaver pitcher can be expected to show short of two weeks of practice. Schatz has been pitching during the winter around Los Angeles, but had done no work for three weeks previous to yesterday's contest and his control was noticeable. His strikeout record shows four of the military men turned back to the bench, but this is incomparable to the whirl work of Rogan, who downed 13 of McCredie's brave lads. The colored lads gave the fans a huge howl of delight in the second inning, when Johnson hit past Rodgers and stole. Goliath took one on the leg and this was followed by a ground ball from Crafton's bat to Schatzlein, who headed Johnson at third. Hawkins scratched a hit to Pinell and the bags were loaded. This looked like a pretty tight situation for a youngster like Schatzlein to face, but he came through like a veteran and got out of it nicely. A hit would have meant a couple of runs, but Moore elected to "sneak" Goliath home. He was successful, but it developed later that his sacrifice was to be converted into a double play. Crafton being caught at the plate by Stumpf on the tag end of a play started by Schatzlein. This retired the side and the Wreckers did not get another run until the fifth, when Moore hit across second with one down. Pagan laid a bunt and was out, O'Brien to Stumpf. Error by Pagan.

Right here occurred a play that gave the colored lads a gift score. Pinell allowed himself to be sucked in on Pagan's bunt that O'Brien was able to handle easily and when Stumpf got ready to catch Moore trying to take two bases on the out, third base was unguarded. Hollocher was unable to beat Moore's running start to the bag, and Pinell, in attempting to back up, hit a soft spot and took a Brodie. The ball, which appeared to be a good throw, went into the left field bleachers and Moore trotted home.

Manager McCredie made a protest to Umpire Joy on the ground that Moore should be held at third, but the boss of the diamond held that inasmuch as Moore was already on the way to third when the relay started, he was entitled to that base and an additional one, under the ground rule. Pinch Hitters in Action

In the Beavers' half of the eighth, Manager Mack pulled a little regular stuff by sending in a pair of pinch hitters for O'Brien and Schatzlein in the persons of Marine Marshall and August Fisher. Marshall got away with a walk but Fisher was thrown out by Rogan. At this stage Danille Willie, crossed up the whole infantry infield by laying a perfect bunt along the third baseline and beating it out without extending himself. That was the first hit for the visitors. Hollocher was also killed off at first by Rogan and the pitcher made it an even break on the day with like Wolfer, whose record consisted of two walks and two strikeouts. Wolfer had a fine

BIG DAY TOMORROW

Saturday will be a big day in sports. The swimmers will compete on the harbor, and the Portland baseball team will clash with the Wrecking Crew at Alhambra Park immediately after the matadors have hung up their red cap. The big features of the swimming meet will be the 250-yard swim and the 440-yard event. In these races Norman Ross, the Olympic Club swimmer, is expected to make good showing against the local boys, while Langer is certain to be a favorite in the 440-yard event. John Kelli and Harold Kruger are banking on doing something and it would not be at all surprising if the Heanani swimmer set a new mark in the 250-yard swim. Despite the poor showing made by Ross in the 880, they will have to watch him in the 440-yard swim. The girls' race will be held tomorrow, the first event being the 50-yard swim. The cross-country run will begin at 3:30 and the baseball exhibition is slated for 4 o'clock. On Sunday the Beavers will meet the Chinese team.
